Renewed Petition Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.183

Attention: Attorney Handling This Matter, i.e., Senior Attorney Paul Shanoski

Mail Stop Petition
Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

An earlier petition in this reissue application was dismissed in a decision mailed April 23, 2010. This is a renewed petition that overcomes deficiencies of the earlier petition. The petitioner asks that this renewed petition be granted in that it overcomes the noted deficiencies.

The Director is authorized to charge any petition fee to Deposit Account 19-0733. The Director also is authorized to charge any additional amount required or credit any overpayment to Deposit Account 19-0733.

As said in the decision on petition, the reissue applicants face the situation of Office-asserted need for a supplemental reissue declaration in the presence of a deceased inventor, who left an estate without a legal representative of that estate, and five heirs, one heir being of unknown whereabouts for about 18 years. The earlier petition of the applicants sought to file the supplemental reissue declaration with signatures of co-inventors for the deceased inventor. The Office dismissed the petition. The Office stated that the applicants needed to provide the signatures of as many heirs as possible, to the supplemental reissue declaration, and otherwise prove that they refused to sign, or that they cannot be found or reached after diligent effort. As to the homeless heir, the Office stated that the applicants needed to provide better proof of diligent efforts to locate that person. The Office noted the petition could be renewed within two months.

The applicants have accepted the reasoning of the Office and first, sought the signatures of the heirs to the supplemental reissue declaration. Accompanying this renewed petition is a supplemental declaration signed by three of the heirs. Specifically, the applicants are submitting a supplemental declaration separately signed by the following heirs of deceased inventor Darren F. Jones: Robin Morton, Jennifer Harp, and Randall Jones. To gain these signatures, after numerous contacts were attempted, the applicants had to have a representative Mrs. Lesa Wolman drive to the homes of two of these heirs and personally request their signatures. Nothing else worked.

The applicants have also accepted the reasoning of the Office and second, submit proof that the not-homeless heir Patrick Jones cannot be found or reached after diligent effort. Accompanying this renewed petition is the declaration of diligent effort, by Mrs. Lesa Wolman. As proved there, Mrs. Wolman went to the residence of Patrick Jones, had his mother call him and give Mrs. Wolman his number, she “chased” Patrick Jones by repeated telephone calls to try to reach him, and ultimately Patrick Jones “dodged” Mrs. Wolman in her diligent effort to secure a supplemental declaration signed by Patrick Jones.

The applicants have further accepted the reasoning of the Office and third, both renewed the efforts to locate the homeless Jeff Jones, and now submit better proof that heir Jeff Jones cannot be found or reached after diligent effort. Accompanying this renewed petition are two declarations of search efforts, one by Ms. Jan Whitis, and one by Mr. Charles Shifley. The declaration of Ms. Whitis states on first hand knowledge the efforts of Ms. Whitis to locate Jeff Jones through the types of resources the Office stated in the decision on petition that the Office would want to see referenced as the resources used in the search.

Further, Mr. Shifley reacted to a comment from heir Randall Jones on June 22, 2010 to Ms. Wolman that Jeff Jones was in Guerneville, California leading a free lifestyle and growing medical marijuana. Randall Jones was asked, and did not have more information. Mr. Shifley determined by searching that a Jeff Jones is or was an Executive Director of the Oakland Cannabis Buyers' Cooperative, in California, but that the Jeff Jones so identified is also reported to have been born in South Dakota as a son of Wayne Jones, not the deceased inventor of this application. Mr. Shifley determined that two Jeff Jones are reported to have lived in Guerneville, California by an Internet White Pages search, but one is not at the listed telephone number and the other one deceased. While two Geoffrey Jones are also reported to have lived in Guerneville, California, one is deceased and the other is not at the location the White Pages report for him.

The applicants request that the Office accept the showing now made by the signed supplemental reissue declarations as provided now and the declarations of persons with first hand knowledge in combination with the earlier-filed declaration of Ms. Holly Johnston as appropriate for Office grant of the petition to accept the earlier-filed signatures of the co-inventors on behalf of deceased inventor Larren Jones.

Applicants have demonstrated that the heirs of deceased co-inventor Larren F. Jones in all of their persons, i.e., the legal representative of the deceased inventor, cannot be found or reached after diligent effort. Accordingly, it is respectfully submitted that this renewed petition is proper pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §1.183 and should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,
BANNER & WITCOFF, LTD.

SUPPLEMENTAL DECLARATION FOR REISSUE PATENT APPLICATION
BY HEIRS OF LARREN F. JONES
TO CORRECT "ERRORS" STATEMENT (37 CFR 1.175)Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

I/We hereby declare, on behalf of deceased inventor Larren F. Jones, as his legal representative(s) by virtue of being his heir(s), and on information and belief, that:

Every error in the patent which was corrected in the present reissue application, and which is not covered by the prior oath(s) and/or declaration(s) submitted in this application, arose without any deceptive invention on the part of the applicant.

The specific changes/amendments to the claims are the addition of new claims 55 through 138. The original claims are unduly narrow in some respects and do not provide the full scope of protection to which we are entitled. Therefore, new claims 55 through 138 were added to correct our errors in claiming less than we had a right to claim. Claims 55 through 138 recite subject matter that was not claimed as such in the original claims and/or broaden the original claims by omitting features unnecessary to distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. No other changes/amendments were made to the claims.

More particularly, the specific changes/amendments to the claims, as detailed below, are the additions of:

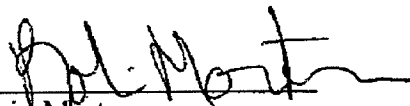

- Independent claims 55 and 59 and their dependent claims 56 through 58, and 60 through 61, which recite a wear assembly for attachment to a digging edge of an excavator. These claims are similar in some respects to original claims 1-9 and 51, which also recite a wear assembly, but are broader in that certain features unnecessary to distinguish the prior art are not recited. For example, claim 1 recites “a second surface adapted to be positioned remote from the digging edge” and “a rigid lock.” The “second surface” feature is omitted at least in new claim 55 and the unnecessarily restrictive “rigid lock” is broadened to “lock.”
- Independent claim 62 and its dependent claims 63 through 66, which are directed to a mount for attaching a wear member to a digging edge of an excavator. A mount is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claims 67, 68, 70, and 73, and dependent claim 69, which depends from claim 68. These claims are directed to a lock adapted to be received into an opening in a wear member. A lock is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claim 71 and its dependent claim 72, which are directed to a method of mounting a wear member to an excavator. A method of mounting a wear member is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claims 74, 81, 91, 103, and 115, and their respective dependent claims 75 through 80 and 138, 82 through 90, 92 through 102, 104 through 107 and 116 through 118, which are directed to a wear assembly for an excavator having a lip, and independent claim 108 and its dependent claims 109 and 110, directed to a wear member for mounting to an excavator having a lip. None of a wear assembly for an excavator having a lip, a wear member for an excavator having a lip, and/or a wear member for mounting to an excavator having a lip is claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.

U.S. Patent Appln. No. 09/368,503

Atty. Docket No. 051291.81516

- Independent claim 111, and its dependent claims 112 through 113, which are directed to a one-piece boss. A one-piece boss is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claim 114, which is directed to a boss for fixing to an excavator lip. A boss for fixing to an excavator lip is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claims 119, 125, and 129, and their dependent claims 120 through 124, 126 through 128, and 130 through 134, which are directed to a wear assembly for attachment along a lip of an excavator. A wear assembly for attachment along a lip of an excavator is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.
- Independent claim 135, and its dependent claims 136 through 137, which are directed to a wear member for mounting on a front lip of an excavator. A wear member for mounting on a front lip of an excavator is not claimed as such in any of original claims 1 through 54.

I/We hereby declare that all statements made herein of my/our own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. 1001 and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

DECLARATION OF LESA B. WOLMAN AS TO REACHING PATRICK JONES, HEIR OF LARREN F. JONES, IN SUPPORT OF DECLARATIONS
TO CORRECT "ERRORS" STATEMENT (37 CFR 1.175)

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

I, Lesa B. Wolman, hereby declare that:

1. I am the Operations Manager of the Portland, Oregon office of Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. and have been for 13 years. My job duties occasionally include working with lawyers of the law firm to locate and serve or obtain signatures of Portland area persons. I have successfully completed such occasional job duties several times.

2. I was asked to travel to addresses I was given as the potential home addresses of the heirs of Larren F. Jones in the Portland area. I understand that Jan Whitis, Library Manager of Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. generated the address information.

3. I was asked to travel to these addresses with a supplemental reissue declaration and letters of introduction, and to ask the heirs to sign the supplemental reissue declaration.

4. I succeeded through this travel effort in obtaining the signatures of Jennifer Harp and Randall Jones. I understand that all other efforts to obtain the signatures were unsuccessful.

5. Concerning Patrick Jones, he was difficult in my contacts with him.

6. On June 22, 2010 at 4:30 p.m., I went to the address I was given for Patrick Jones, which was 4554 SW 163rd Avenue, Beaverton, Oregon 97007.

7. I discovered that the mother and step-father of Patrick Jones live at 4554 SW 163rd Avenue, Beaverton, Oregon 970009. Patrick Jones does not live there.

8. I was informed by the mother and step-father that Patrick Jones lives on the east side of Portland with his girlfriend.

9. The mother of Patrick Jones called him while I was in her home, and told him that we had paperwork for him to review and sign that dealt with his father's patent application with ESCO.

10. The mother of Patrick Jones handed me the telephone, and I asked Patrick if I could meet with him. He said he had to go to a doctor's appointment at 5 p.m. and needed to hang up, and that he had to drive his girlfriend to work at 8 p.m.. He said he had no money for gas, so he would not be willing to drive anywhere.

11. In response to these statements from Patrick Jones, I said to him that I would come to him. I also gave him my cell phone number. I asked if it was alright with him if his mother gave me his phone number, and he reluctantly agreed. I asked when he would be home again, and he said between 8:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. that evening. I said I would call him then, or he should call my cell phone if something came up. He also said he only had one telephone number. We hung up.

12. The mother of Patrick Jones said that the girlfriend of Patrick Jones had a cell phone, but that Patrick Jones had fallen behind in payments and his cell phone was disconnected.

13. I then called the number of Patrick Jones given me by his mother, which was 503-653-5287 at 9:04 p.m., and let it ring more than 20 times. No one answered and no answering machine ever picked up. I called the same telephone number again at 9:18 p.m., 9:20 p.m., 9:45 p.m., and 10:09 p.m. All told, I let the telephone ring more than 100 times. No one answered and no answering machine ever picked up.

14. On June 23, 2010, I called Patrick Jones at the same telephone number again at 10:06 a.m., and let it ring about 15 times. Again, no one answered and no answering machine ever picked up.

15. I was unable to determine an address for Patrick Jones or his girlfriend, and did not perceive any other way to attempt to reach Patrick Jones than through the telephone number I was given.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on JUNE 23, 2010.

DECLARATION AS TO SEARCH FOR MISSING HEIR OF LARREN F. JONES
NAMED JEFFREY JONES IN SUPPORT OF DECLARATIONS
TO CORRECT "ERRORS" STATEMENT (37 CFR 1.175)

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

Under penalty of perjury I, Jan Whitis, hereby declare that:

1. I am the Library Manager of Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. and have been for many years. My job duties include searches for information for firm clients, including whereabouts of persons. I have successfully located missing persons many times.

2. I am asked many times a month to locate a person. To do this I use a variety of resources such as the Westlaw, LexisNexis, Dun & Bradstreet and Dialog subscription databases as well as resources such as the Internet and telephone directory assistance. The aforementioned subscription databases provide information about persons available from news articles, credit agency headers, mortgage records, utility records, lawsuit or liens records, professional licensing records, or company business registration records.

3. On or about April 10, 2009, I was asked to locate Jeffrey Jones. I was given the following information:

His name is Jeffrey Jones. We do not have a middle initial. We do not have an address. His whereabouts have been unknown to his family since about 1993. He is the son of Larren Frank Jones. Larren Jones is deceased, having died in 2003, but in 1999, he lived at 20333 NW Anzalone Drive #157, Aloha, Oregon 97006, and earlier, as far back as 1976, he also was in Aloha. His SS # - Larren's that is - was S40-48-xxxx (I was given the full social security number). He - again Larren - was an Engineer at Esco Corporation of Orgeon. He died at Tuality Community Hospital, in Hillsboro, Washington. Jeffrey's surviving relatives are brothers Randall and Patrick, and sisters Robin Morton and Jennifer Harp. Robin was in Anchorage in 2003, Randall in San Francisco then, and the other two siblings in Oregon then.

4. I was asked what I could do to try to find Jeffrey Jones, presumably formerly of Aloha, Oregon, perhaps born at Tuality Community Hospital, and who no doubt went to the local high school of Aloha, Oregon.

5. Based on this information, I searched newspaper and journal articles and information available on the aforementioned databases about people. "Jeff Jones" is a very common name in the United States. For instance, according to people records available on LexisNexis, there are over 450 persons in Oregon alone with some form of the name "Jeff Jones."

6. I determined that the obituary for Larren F. Jones is as follows:

A memorial service will be at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12, 2003, in the Hillsboro Elks Lodge for Larren F. Jones, who died Oct. 4 at age 60.

Mr. Jones was born Feb. 27, 1943, in Oakdale, La. As a child, he moved to Mt. Angel, where he graduated from high school. He moved to Beaverton in the early 1960s and was an engineer for ESCO. He married Mary Williams; they divorced. He later married Kathy Zumbrunnen; they divorced.

Survivors include his daughters, Robin Morton and Jennifer Harp; sons, Randy, Jeff and Patrick; brothers, Dan and David; sister, Theresa Elliott; companion, Patti Free; and four grandchildren.

Remembrances to the Hillsboro Elks Lodge. Arrangements by Donelson Sewell & Mathews.

7. Based on information available in the obituary, I could not determine a middle name for Larren Jones' son Jeffrey Jones in order to focus the search for the broadly named Jeff Jones based on middle name or middle initial information.

8. I asked if there was any way that we could get a birthdate for Jeffrey Jones, to help narrow search results in people records by birth year of the named person. We could not locate a birthdate.

9. Based on reasoning that Darren Jones would have been about 66 years old in 2009, if not deceased, I reasoned that his children would be in the range of ages of 30 to 44.

10. Based on that reasoning, and the information provided for my search, I identified a specific Jeffrey M. Jones as a candidate for being the Jeffrey Jones I was asked to locate. His address was

JONES, JEFFREY M
2 MCCAIN RD APT 4
ASTORIA, OR 97103-3118
Born: 11/1973 (Age 35)
TE: n/a

11. The specific Jeffrey M. Jones I identified seemed the only candidate to be the Jeffrey Jones to be located.

12. I identified Jeffrey M. Jones as the sole candidate likely to be the Mr. Jones to be located based on the following factors:

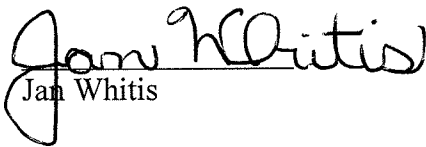

- He had a son born with Kimberly Soderback-Jones in Tuality Community Hospital, Aloha, OR in April 2002, according to news reports.
- He was 35 years old in 2009, according to credit agency reports.
- He lived at 20345 SW CARLIN BLVD ALOHA, OR circa 1999.
- He had been in bankruptcy proceedings (1999), eviction proceedings (1995 and again in 2004), small debt collections (1998 and again in 2006), and seemingly shared the same social security number ((611-24-XXXX--last 4 digits not available) with a person from California named Martin Mucino.

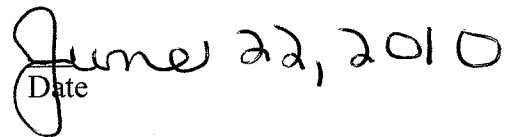

13. The description provided as to Jeffrey M. Jones also seemed to explain his potential to have been out of contact with his family for an extended time.

14. I have reconsidered my search from April 2009, and updated it. People records today report that the aforementioned Jeffrey M. (Michael) Jones formerly of the Astoria, OR is now addressed at

417 S EDGEWOOD ST APT 8S
SEASIDE, OR 97138-5727
TE: n/a

15. On information and belief, the Jeffrey M. Jones I identified was sent a letter in 2009, as attached as Exhibit A to this declaration, and asked to respond if he was the son of Larren F. Jones. Again on information and belief, Mr. Jones did not respond.

Sir:

I, Charles W. Shifley, hereby declare that:

1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Registration No. 28,042, and a shareholder of Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. and have been for many years. My job duties occasionally include searches for information for firm clients, including whereabouts of persons. I have successfully located missing persons several times.

2. On June 22, 2010, I learned that Randall Jones said that Jeff Jones was living a freestyle in Guerneville, California, growing medical marijuana.

3. I used online searching on keywords including "Jeff," "Jones" and "marijuana" to determine that a Jeff Jones is or was Executive Director of the Oakland Cannabis Buyers' Cooperative. From a Rand McNally atlas, Guerneville, California is north of Oakland and San Francisco, California, near those cities. By further online searching, I determined that the Jeff Jones identified as such an Executive Director is reported to have been born in South Dakota to a father Wayne Jones, not the Larren Jones of this application. A print of the article I relied on for this information is attached (Exhibit A).

5. By White Pages online searching, I determined that a Jeffrey Marc Jones and a Jeffrey E. Jones are reported to have lived in Guerneville, California. The telephone number listed for Jeffrey Marc Jones is answered on behalf of Catholic Charities. Jeffrey E. Jones is also reported to be deceased. A print of the reports I relied on for this information is attached (Exhibit B).

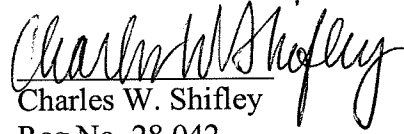

6. By the same White Pages searching, I determined that two Geoffrey Jones are reported to have lived in Guerneville, California, but one is also reported to be deceased. The other is not at the telephone number identified for him, as my call to the number and voicemail was returned by a polite and forthcoming woman named Barbara who stated the telephone number was hers for five years and she did not know of any Geoffrey Jones ever at her telephone number. A print of the reports I relied on for the stated information is attached (Exhibit C).

7. At my direction, Facebook was checked for Jeff Jones. No Jeff Jones was found.

8. Given the lack of information, I can think of no further useful searching for Jeff Jones son of Larren Jones.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on June 23, 2010.

U.S. v. Oakland Cannabis Buyers' Cooperative & Jeffrey Jones

U.S. v. Oakland Cannabis Buyers' Cooperative & Jeffrey Jones

By: Ellen Gedalius, Medill News Service Questions presented: Whether the Controlled Substances Act, U.S.C. 801 et seq., forecloses a medical necessity defense to the Act's prohibition against manufacturing and distributing marijuana, a Schedule I controlled substance.

As a teenager, Jeff Jones watched as his father grew sicker and sicker. Wayne Jones underwent the typical cancer treatment - chemotherapy, prescription drugs, radiation - and he suffered from the typical side effects - weakness, nausea, weight loss. If the conservative, Christian family from South Dakota had known in 1988 about the medicinal benefits of marijuana, they just may have tried it.

A few years after Wayne Jones died, Jeff Jones learned that marijuana can alleviate the pain that cancer patients feel. The plant can also whet their lost appetites. With that information, Jones left Rapid City, S.D., and moved to California to open the Oakland Cannabis Buyers' Cooperative. The Cooperative serves more than 7,000 people, providing them with support groups, massage therapy, a resource center and legal hemp products.

Until August 2000, the Cooperative also provided marijuana to patients with doctors' notes. That service was considered legal under California Proposition 215, which was passed overwhelmingly by voters in 1996. Eight other states, in addition to Washington, D.C., have passed medicinal marijuana laws: Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Hawaii, Maine, Nevada, Oregon and Washington.

"I thought this is the worst thing you could ever do, be involved in marijuana," Jones said, reflecting on his conservative background. "You'd be surprised what's really the truth. The truth is that they can get up every morning and go to work."

His father couldn't do that.

"I remember sitting with him in the last days of his life and more often than not, I was listening to him puking," Jones said.

Now, he sees people go to chemotherapy treatments smiling. They can hold down food, and they just aren't as weak as his father was.

In January 1998, the federal government filed suit against the Cooperative, claiming that the use, manufacture and distribution of marijuana is illegal under the Controlled Substances Act, a federal law. And, according to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the Food and Drug Administration must determine whether a drug meets certain medicinal standards. Marijuana, a Schedule I controlled substance, has not been declared safe by the FDA.

In May 1998, U.S. District Judge Charles Breyer, the brother of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer, issued a preliminary injunction, closing the Cooperative.

"A state law (that) purports to legalize the distribution of marijuana for any purpose, however, even a laudable one, nonetheless directly conflicts with federal law," Breyer wrote.

The Cooperative, however, violated the court's order and distributed marijuana.

Then, in what was considered an unusual strategy to shield the Cooperative from federal lawsuits, the Oakland City Council in August 1998 proclaimed the Cooperative a federal agency.

The strategy didn't work.

In October 1998, Breyer authorized U.S. Marshals to close the Cooperative despite its request for a modified injunction allowing marijuana distribution to those who medically need it.

The following September, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed in a per curiam opinion, writing that medical necessity could be used as an exemption from federal drug laws.

"OCBC presented evidence that there is a class of people with serious medical conditions for whom the use of cannabis is necessary in order to treat or alleviate those conditions or their symptoms," the court wrote. "The government, by contrast, has yet to identify any interest it may have in blocking the distribution of cannabis to those with medical needs, relying exclusively on its general interest in enforcing its statutes. It has offered no evidence to rebut OCBC's evidence that cannabis is the only effective treatment for a large group of individuals."

The appeals court instructed the lower court to rethink its decision not to modify the injunction.

Reconsidering the case in July 2000, Breyer ruled that the Cooperative could distribute marijuana to the seriously ill. The following month, the U.S. Supreme Court, in a 7-1 ruling, issued an order preventing the Cooperative from distributing marijuana while the federal government pursued its appeal to the high court. (Justice Stephen Breyer recused himself from the case.)

"Ever since Bill Clinton made that comment about not inhaling, he's been running away from it," said Robert A. Raich, an attorney representing the Cooperative, who believes that the government's suit is an attempt to appear tough on drugs. "Even if that means many patients are going to die, or stay in wheelchairs, or go blind."

U.S. Solicitor General Seth P. Waxman wrote in the government's petition for certiorari to the U.S. Supreme Court that allowing the distribution of marijuana for medicinal purposes hinders the government's ability to enforce federal drug laws.

"Unless the CSA can be enforced..., drug traffickers, acting under the guise of 'medical necessity,' will be able to manufacture and distribute marijuana with impunity," Waxman added.

Waxman also wrote that in 1998, Congress declared that Schedule I drugs, including marijuana, are unsafe and not acceptable for medical use.

But the government doesn't always know best, said Robert Kampia, executive director of the Marijuana Policy Project in Washington, D.C.

"We believe that a doctor and a patient know best in determining the best treatment option for the patient," Kampia said.

Jones added: "Like a trapped rat in a corner, these patients are not going to give up and die."

California itself is not a party to the case, but Bill Lockyer, California's attorney general, filed a brief supporting the Oakland cooperative's position. "The federal government threatens to cross the line of state sovereignty and interfere with a traditional state right," the brief argued.

On Nov. 27, 2000, the U.S. Supreme Court granted certiorari in the case.

During oral arguments on March 28, 2001, some of the justices cut right to the question of whether the defense of "medical necessity" can even be applied in such a procedural setting.

"I thought the medical necessity defense was for an individual," Justice Antonin Scalia said. "You would extend it to the person prescribing the drug, and even to opening a business (such as the cooperative). That's a vast expansion beyond any necessity defense I've ever heard of."

Justice Anthony Kennedy voiced a similar doubt. "You're asking us to hold that this defense exists...with no specific plaintiff before us, no specific case," Kennedy told Gerald Uelmen, arguing for the cooperative.

Acting U.S. Solicitor General Barbara Underwood reinforced the point in her argument. "There simply is no medical necessity defense at all," so the federal government chose to "get [the ambiguity] resolved systemically in a civil [injunctive] proceeding that simply presents that legal question" rather than in a series of criminal prosecutions against individuals who used marijuana in violation of federal law.

But Justice David Souter turned that around on the federal government. "Isn't the real concern behind this that with the passage of the California proposition and the popularity within the California population that that necessarily entails," Souter mused, "it will be very, very difficult for the government ever to get a criminal conviction in a jury trial?"

In one of the lighter moments in the exchange, Justice Scalia challenged Uelmen to list medical emergencies that could require marijuana treatment.

"Death, starvation, blindness," Uelmen began.

"Stomach ache?" Scalia interceded.

On May 14, 2001, the Court, by a unanimous 8-0 vote, held in resolute language that the federal Controlled Substances Act contains no medical necessity exception to the clear prohibition on the manufacture and distribution of various drugs, including marijuana.

"It is clear from the text of the Act that Congress has made a determination that marijuana has no medical benefits worthy of an exception," wrote Clarence Thomas for the Court. "The statute expressly contemplates that many drugs 'have a useful and legitimate medical purpose and are necessary to maintain the health and general welfare of the American people,' but it includes no exception at all for any medical use of marijuana."

The majority of 8 was split 5-3 on how far the Court should go in addressing the issue of the medicinal use of marijuana. Though the Court did not directly address whether individual patients may grow or possess marijuana for their own medicinal use, or whether states may enact legislation that specifically allows it, Thomas' lead majority opinion, supported by five justices, indicated clearly that the federal anti-drug statute appears to answer the question.

"Whereas some other drugs can be dispensed and prescribed for medical use... the same is not true for marijuana," Thomas wrote. "Indeed, for purposes of the Controlled Substances Act, marijuana has 'no currently accepted medical use' at all."

In writing a concurrence for himself and Justices David Souter and Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Justice John Paul Stevens said the majority had gone too far in taking "two unwarranted and unfortunate excursions;" by suggesting that the defense of necessity is unavailable for anyone other than distributors of marijuana, including "a seriously ill patient for whom there is no alternative means of avoiding starvation or extraordinary suffering," and by gratuitously casting doubt on "whether necessity can ever be a defense" to any federal statute that does not explicitly provide for it.

Justice Stephen Breyer took no part in the case, his brother having issued the original preliminary injunction in the case.
